In the claims:

Claim 1, line 4-5: "at least one arm" should be -- said at least one arm --.

Claim 1, line 8: "said siderail frame" should be -- said siderail support frame --.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

The prior art of record fails to disclose or fairly suggest a siderail assembly for a bed comprises a frame, at least one arm supported on the frame at one end for moving pivotally between two different positions, the other end of the arm being pivotally connected to a siderail support frame, the siderail support frame including at least one elongate upstanding guide member where a siderail carriage frame being movable toward and away from the siderail support frame, at least one elongate link being pivotally connected to and extended between the siderail support frame and siderail carriage frame for moving the siderail carriage frame along the guide member so as to change the spacing between the siderail carriage frame and the siderail support frame and as specifically called for the claimed combinations.

Conclusion
